

MAY NOT WORK HOUSTON END ROAD SOON

Board of Revenue May Find it Impossible to Repair Headland Road in Time for The Fair.

There is a strong sentiment favoring improving that bit of roadway which unites Henry county with Houston for it is indeed a reflection on this county for a stranger to ride in an automobile from Dothan to Headland and observe the difference in roads after the county is crossed going north.

Fair Time is Coming.

The Fair is coming—to be exact the big show will be pulled off in Dothan October 25-30, and there are hundreds of Henry county people who will attend this event and many of them ride in automobiles. If they have to motor over the Dothan-Headland road they will certainly have a rough road to travel—unless the County Board of Revenue acts.

John Sanders, president of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association, and also a member of the Board of Revenue, said today that he does not see how anything can be accomplished before the fair, as it will take a great deal of work on the road—that just a little patching will serve no purpose worth while. He said, however, that the Headland road and others are going to be improved later, but not just now.

Judge Crawford's Position.

Probate Judge A. C. Crawford, who is chairman of the Board of Revenue, said today that he favors improving the Headland road in time for the fair if possible—at the very earliest time—and some plan might be worked out to do this, he thinks.

There are many reasons why the roadway mentioned should be put in readiness before Fair

STEEL IS DOMINATED BY GREAT WAR DEMAND

New York, Sept. 12.—The steel industry is still dominated by the enormous demand for war munitions. Yet sales of blooms, billets and bars last week, estimated at 150,000 tons, were smaller than the week before. The inability of mills to assume additional heavy obligations for the remainder of the calendar year caused contraction in the sales and in conjunction with a pressing demand brought a wide range and higher prices for semi-finished steel. Sales of forging blooms were made $24 to $46 a ton, re-rolling billets sold at $25 to $35, forging billets at $24 to $48 and round bars commanded 2.75 cents to 3.25 cents a pound.

Some structural, as well as rail mills, have been turned on bars to help relieve the pressure from projectile manufacturers.

Railroads have shown signs of increased buying. The Louisville and Nashville ordered 143,000 tons, and the Atlantic Coast Line 23,000 tons of rails from the Ensley mill, and the Santa Fe closed for 30,000 tons at Chicago for early 1916 shipment. The Pennsylvania, New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific are preparing rail specifications. Orders for 7,000 cars are pending. Chicago and Northwestern bought 34 locomotives, the Omaha road 10, the Texas and Pacific 22 and the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh 10. The American Locomotive Company took a Spanish order for 25 engines.

Joel Tew of route one was in town this morning.

S. J. Goff of the Machine and Mercantile Co., of Cottonwood, was here this morning on business.

week if possible.

The Board of Revenue will be in session Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

916 PUPILS NOW IN DOTHAN SCHOOLS

916 pupils are now enrolled in the Dothan city schools, this being the highest attendance on record, and before the week is out the thousand mark may have been reached.

Forty-two new pupils were enrolled at Orfe Hill and Grammar Schools and six at the High School today, this making the grand total up to noon of 916.

The one thousand mark is not far off and it would not surprise the most skeptical if it were reached in ten days or two weeks. And everything is working as smoothly and fine as a new watch, according to Superintendent J. V. Brown.

RUSSIA HAS SOLDIERS BUT LACK EQUIPMENT

Berlin, September 12.—Travelers who have just returned from Russia contribute to The Neue Zeitung of Zurich, articles concerning the conditions under which the Russian armies are fighting. These articles are summarized as follows by the Overseas agency:

"Russia has enough soldiers in the field and sufficient food supplies, but has no army, officers or ammunition. The army units vary. Some of them are equipped excellently and make good impression. Others are just to the contrary. The men appear unwilling to serve, and enthusiasm is seldom noticeable. The lack of officers is particularly noticeable. Frequently large bodies of men may be seen marching without a single officer. In the new formation there is only one gun for ten men. Such guns as are available are mostly of old types, and not repeating rifles. The scarcity of ammunition is still more marked. Only three small munition factories have been operating since the largest Russian plant was destroyed by an explosion. Economic conditions are very bad. Large stores of grain are decaying in warehouses, while the people go hungry. The lack of communications, inefficiency of organization and corruption among public officials aggravate these evil conditions. The famine in coal is simply a calamity. Recently Belgian workmen were sent to Russia in the hope of increasing the output of the ammunition plants."

NEGRO JAILED FOR STEALING SPORT SHIRTS, KIMONA, PANTS

Having seen so many fellows all dolled up in such finery, the display in Blumberg's window proved too much of a temptation for Ray Leslie, negro, who went in the store Saturday night, and with an artistic eye, such as an Indian squaw might show for colors, picked out two loud sport shirts, one kimona and a pair of pants.

H. Blumberg, owner of the store, alert to his best interests, had an eye on the negro, and just about the time the would-be sport thought everything was safe, Blumberg caught him and sent one of his boys for the police.

Right there is where Ray's dreams of having a high time with some "high yellow" probably evaporated, and instead he saw a picture of prison bars or a vision of highways being improved.

It is not often that Chief of Police, C. J. Rollins gets flabbergasted off such a high life.

HOUSE IN WHICH MILLIONAIRE WIDOW WAS MURDERED

HOME OF MRS. NICHOLS.

The picture shows the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Grigg Nichols, the sixty-year-old widow of the late James E. Nichols, millionaire wholesale grocer at No. 4 East Seventy-ninth street, New York, where Mrs. Nichols was murdered by burglars on the night of September 8th.

The home is located around the corner from Fifth Avenue in the most exclusive residential section of the Metropolis.

According to the confession of Onnie Tulas, hallboy, and assistant butler, he planned the robbery with a band of young criminals, whom the police are now trying to round up.

Arrow points to the drawing room on the third floor where the police found Mrs. Nichols, dead, with a knotted towel around her throat.

MORRIS TALKS TO FARMERS

W. A. Morris, State business agent of the Farmers Union, addressed a gathering of farmers at the court house this morning at 11 o'clock, and talked on the necessity of co-operation. About 150 farmers were present and heard Mr. Morris talk, which was highly interesting.

SLOCOMB WARE HOUSE BURNS

News has been received in Dothan of the destruction by fire at an early hour Sunday morning of the Union Warehouse at Slocumb, the cause of the fire being unknown. Some 250 bales of cotton, partially covered by insurance, were destroyed. It is understood that many more bales of cotton were stored in the building but that they were saved.

CUTTING SCRAPE.

J. W. Wright cut Lawrence Forrester about the arm, shoulder and face, inflicting several gashes about the body, in an affray that occurred in Abe Saliba's fruit stand, Main street, this afternoon. B. A. Lenkeit, an on-looker, separated the belligerents and possibly saved the life of one of the men. The wounded man was taken to a doctor's office. The men who live near Cowarts were arrested.

L. S. Warrick, of route 7 was in Dothan this morning on business.

MAYERS MONDAY Morning Matinee

It must have been a case of unrequited love, Mayor Baker didn't say so, but the chances are he thought so. The plaintiff was Callie Jones, a hard working negro woman, black as the ace of spades. Callie had been having trouble with that husband of hers. For instance she passed a place the other night and if there wasn't her husband setting up there buying coconuts for another woman. This was too much for Callie so she lit into hubby and gave him a thrashing. The Mayor thought Callie made a bum job of it, and consequently couldn't turn her loose, but his sympathies being aroused, he gave her the lowest fine—$3.00. (This price is for wives beating husbands only, and does not apply vice versa.)

Wasn't Feeling Well.

Ray Leslie, he who had plucked the sport shirts was not exactly sick but was not feeling well, according to what he told Mayor Baker today, as the Mayor is generally anxious about the health of his patients. "A 100 or 10 months" didn't help Ray's feelings. David Blumberg was there to testify if necessary but Ray plead guilty.

Near Tragedies.

Sam and Stella Daniels, negroes, fighting, fine $6.00 each, and there's the story. The court never did ascertain what the row was about, who started it and why, for to tell the truth this domestic tangle was a bit perplexing. Anyway, Sam and Stella fought, and as a consequence, the Mayor fined. The sequel will be: pay or work it out. Ernest Brown and Thomas Snipes, disturbing the peace also got in the $6.00 net, as did Bill McCullough. It seemed that there were a whole bunch of negroes involved in the near-tragedy.

Joy Riding Here.

Leslie Roberson, negro, who came from Clayton, took a joy ride down St. Andrews street Sunday morning—that is he passed the Coast Line station and was headed north, but unfortunately for Leslie, Officer Horace Daugherty saw him, and today swore that he, the aforementioned Leslie of the first part, was running an automobile some 20 or 25 miles per hour, which is against the rules and regulations of the municipality. For his Sunday morning joy ride Leslie got $10 or 30 days.

His First Time.

Robert Ogletree, 16, colored, told the Mayor today that it was his first offense at riding free gratis, and Robert was in a good way of getting out free gratis, but he made a slip that put him in bad with His Honor. Robert knew that while he was riding aforementioned train that he was on his way somewhere, but his wife did not work fast enough for him to tell the Mayor where. So, reasons Mayor Baker: here's a negro, 16, a good hand, on a train, no destination—$40 or 6 months. Moral: It's a mighty good idea to know where you are going if you are on your way.

AGENT PLANS COMMUNITY EXHIBITS

Individual Exhibits May Not Be Large But Thompson Reports Good Community Exhibits at Fair.

L. R. Thompson, county farm demonstration agent, hopes that he may arrange for several community agricultural exhibits at the second annual exhibition of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association in Dothan this fall.

Mr. Thompson said that ordinarily the exhibits would have been exceptionally fine this year, but that drought and unlooked for contingencies may have some effect. With all the setbacks, however, he believes the agricultural exhibits will be one of the most interesting features of the fair, and will use his efforts in having the farmers prepare exhibits.

Mr. Thompson, so he says, had spoken to a number of farmers about having exhibits, all of whom seemed enthusiastic at the idea, but drought or some instances interested placing difficulties in the way.

With all the set backs though, the fair, from an agricultural standpoint, will be better this year, and will no doubt create a bit of favorable comment.

NUTLAND PATCH

VIEWED BY MANY

Nearly a thousand persons gathered at the intersection of Main and St. Andrews streets Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock had an opportunity of seeing Nutland Patch, 224 3-4, son of Dan Patch, the famous racer.

Byrd G. Farmer, a well known lawyer, made a brief address and told about the pedigree of the horse, etc. Mr. Farmer, among other things, urged better stock for this section of the country.

IF WE KNEW.

Could we but draw back the curtains

That surround each other's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,

Often we would find it better,
Purer than we judge we should
We should love each other better
If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives,
See the good and bad within.

Often we should love the sinner
All the while we lauder the sin.
Could we know the powers working
To overthrow integrity,

We should judge each other's errors
With more patient charity.

I too know the cares and trials,
Knew the effort all in vain,
And the little disappointment,
Understood the loss and gain,
Would the grim external roughness

Seem, I wonder, just the same?
Should we help, where now we hinder,
Should we pity where we blame?

Ah! We judge each other harshly
Knowing not life's hidden forces;
Knowing not the fount of action
Is less turbid at its source.
Seeing not amid the evil
All the golden grains of good;
Oh, we'd love each other better
If we only understood.

PEACE DELEGATES HERE TO PLEAD WITH WILSON

MISS CRYSTAL MACMILLAN & MME. ROSIKA SCHWIMMER.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Miss Crystal MacMillan of England, and Mme. Rosika Schwimmer of Budapest, both delegates to the recent women's peace conference of the Hague are here in an effort to plead with President Wilson in the interest of peace. The two women came to this country aboard the Ryndam of the Holland-American line, on that ship's recent exciting voyage. They say the liner narrowly missed a floating mine which was later exploded by a mine sweeper, the explosion shaking the Ryndam from stem to stern, heard the sounds of a terrific bombardment in Belgium and just escaped collision of an unidentified British cruiser patrolling the sea lanes about 100 miles off Nantucket.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidneys and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

The big sale at Cox's Department Store goes merrily on. Bargains are plentiful.

LIFE IN SERBIAN MACEDONIA

Result of Blighting Rule of the Turks is Shown by Miserable State of the Country.

There is a great difference between Serbia proper and the Macedonian provinces which she has recently acquired down south, George Macaulay Trivelpy writes in the North American Review.

Serbian Macedonia contains many races, European and Asiatic, and is still rotten with all the vices of a country but just released from Turkish rule. The inhabitants dwell in gigantic villages of 5,000 or 10,000 people each, whence they ride out every morning to till the distant fields. In this their custom resembles that of many of the Sicilians and South Italians. Indeed, the bare limestone mountains and backward civilization of Macedonia are curiously like some parts of South Italy or Sicily.

But the change from South Italy to North Italy is not greater than the change from Serbian Macedonia to northern Serbia. In northern Serbia, which has been free of the Turks for a hundred years and where the entire population is Serbian, you have a landscape of gentle, undulating, fertile hills, cut up into fields by hedges after the English pattern. It is much more like the typical scenery of the Balkans or Mediterranean. The white-walled, red-roofed farm houses are scattered widely about this pleasant countryside, for there is no need for the inhabitants to draw together for safety at nightfall. It is this country, the richest in Serbia, that the Austrian troops sacked so ruthlessly during their invasion.

SIGHTS AIRSHIPS FROM AFAR.

The familiar story of the geese which once saved a beleaguered city is rivaled by the services of a very sagacious parrot in the present war. A scientist, writing for the Frankfurter Zeitung, says: "We reside in Freiburg, Breisgau, on the western part of the Loreto mountains. We had a parrot named Lora, who had her stand on a western terrace of our house and made known the approach of every aviator with a special cry long before he was observable to the human eye. The parrot restlessly moved about, spread her wings, fixedly looked above and uttered cries such as we had never heard before. The children then excitedly came to us and said, 'Lora sees an aviator!' We brought a spyglass and, following the frightened eyes of Lora, observed an airship. Even now, when the parrot is in the house, she looks through the window and reports to us the aviators long before the guns of the fortress of Neubreisach announce their coming."

PROMPT ATTENTION.

"I can't wait a second. Can you give me a light fruit lunch at once?"

"Certainly, sir. I'll turn on the electric currents."

"Why, I often hear you playing on the piano."
